STEPHEN DESHA ON HAWAII SITUATION

THE SILVER TONGUED ORATOR OF THE HAWAIIANS ARRIVED THIS MORNING.

Stephen L. Desha, the "silver tongued" arrived this morning from Hawaii and will remain until Tuesday. In the meantime he will spend his time in campaigning. Tonight he speaks at Pearl City.

"The situation on Hawaii is very bright for the Republicans," said Rev. Desha this morning, "and they are getting brighter every minute. I went all over the islands with Kuhl and every where we met with rousing receptions.

"We will run away ahead of our ticket in the delegateship fight up there for there are hundreds of Democrats who are going to vote for Kuhl instead of 'that haole.' Things look black for McManahan up there. Even the Home Rulers will vote for the Prince instead of Notley just to keep the 'haole' from winning over the Prince and they know that Notley has not a chance.

"Every where you go up there the Democrats keep very quiet about McManahan. They never even mention him. The Democratic candidates up there are afraid to on account of the native vote. They are afraid to urge the election of a haole for fear that they will lose a vote themselves.

"Yes, it looks better every day and we will win out. Hawaii will cast a record vote for the Prince."

GRAND JURY TO ACT MONDAY

ALLEGED FRAUDS IN REGISTRATION TO BE INVESTIGATED BY THE INQUISITORS.

A dozen Territorial Grand Jury subpoenas are out, for an investigation which the jury will make on Monday morning of alleged stuffing of the register by false registration. It is said that a number of persons swore they were residents of lodging houses in Queen street and Richard vicinity, who do not live there at all. If this is found to be the case, there will be indictments for perjury.

High Sheriff Henry this morning went to the district with a pocket full of subpoenas, and a number of witnesses were served.

The investigation is said to have been started by S. F. Chillingworth, chairman of the Board of Registration, who has been charging that illegal registration had been going on. Chillingworth had a conference with the governor in which the matter was brought up. The High Sheriff was requested to serve the subpoenas and made a flying trip to the Kakaako suburb where the alleged frauds were committed.

Business Men Consult

A meeting was called this morning of all the prominent business men of the city representing the banks, the trust companies, the sugar factors and other moneyed interests, in order that the political situation might be thoroughly discussed and the matters coming up before the next legislature of special importance to these interests such as the taxation law, the leprosy question and others so that it might be ascertained just where the interests of the business men stand.

About twenty men, prominent in the commercial life of the city responded to the call and they met at the offices of H. Hackfeld and Company in a private session. The meeting was entirely informal in every way and there were no suggestions or resolutions offered or adopted. It was simply a gathering among friends for the purpose of talking over the whole matter of the present political outlook.

Most of the men, if not all of them, were Republicans and the chief question which arose was whether they should support the straight ticket. Some of the men were in favor of one thing and some of another and the topic was dropped with the feeling prevalent that the men should vote a straight ticket if their conscience did not bid them do otherwise. No one who attended was in any way bound by the meeting. The meeting this morning was not however.

M'CLANAHAN, KUHIO, NOTLEY

WHAT M'CLANAHAN SAYS OF HIS TRIP

WAS WELL RECEIVED DURING HIS TOURS ON OTHER ISLANDS. WILL OPEN OAHU CAMPAIGN.

E. B. McManahan returned by the steamer Kinau this morning from his campaign tour of Molokai, Maui and Hawaii. He expressed himself as well pleased with the reception he had received. McManahan has been on the jump ever since he left here on his campaigning tour of the other islands and he was feeling quite tired when the vessel arrived.

"I have been well received," said McManahan "throughout the trip. Our meetings were well attended and much attention was paid to the speeches. I can not, of course, say what effect the issue that I presented will have upon the voters, but the people were greatly interested in the Cuban discussion.

"I spoke at the Leper Settlement on Thursday and was last night in Lahaina where I addressed a crowd. We spoke at other Maui places, following the program as was outlined in the itinerary.

"I will now take up the campaign on this island. Tonight I will speak at Aala Park and then follow the program at various places on this island.

"In regard to the statements made that I had requested that no reference be made by the Democratic county candidates to my campaign and that I be allowed to make my canvas alone, I made such statement. I believe however that there was a tacit understanding that such would be the case."

Sam Koloa and J. Keaweahu who have been making the campaign with McManahan, the latter as interpreter, returned with him today.

KUHIO CONFIDENT AS REGARDS HAWAII

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE RETURNED THIS MORNING ON THE KINAU FROM HAWAII.

The Republican candidate for Delegate to Congress, Prince Kuhl, returned this morning on the Kinau from Hawaii where he has been campaigning for the past three weeks. The Prince is looking well and hearty after his hard stumping trip and appears to be confident of the outcome on the big island.

"Things are all right on Hawaii," said the prince "the outlook is favorable and I believe that we will win out up there. Every where we went we were greeted by large crowds and always had enthusiastic audiences. Hawaii was thoroughly stumped and I believe that the prospect is favorable."

The Prince was asked if he was going to reply to McManahan's letter in regard to the Prince making statements about McManahan disfranchising the natives.

"I do not think that I will reply excepting in my speeches," replied the Prince "for I think he only wants to get me into a political controversy. I will not answer it immediately at any rate."

The Prince will speak on next Monday evening at Aala Park.

NOTLEY SAYS HAWAII IS STRONG HOME RULE

THE HOME RULE CANDIDATE IS CONFIDENT OF THE OUTCOME—THINKS IT WILL GO HOME RULE

Charles K. Notley the Home Rule candidate for the delegateship was an arriving passenger this morning from Hawaii. He was asked in regard to the political situation on Hawaii.

"Hawaii will go strong Home Rule. If the other islands do their part the Home Rulers will win out. It is all a mistake to think that the Home Rule party is a dead one. There will be good many surprises on the sixth of November among the Republican and Democratic ranks.

"If you will tell me how this island is going I will tell you who will win. If we get our share of the votes here the Home Rule party will win out.

"I will jump right into the harness here and will probably speak tonight. We will make a strong fight here for the next few days."

METCALF SUSTAINED LOCAL BOARD

RAYMOND BROWN SUSTAINED IN JAPANESE RULING BY SECRETARY OF COMMERCE.

A return was filed in the federal court this morning in the habeas corpus matter of Chiyoatsu Nakashima, whom the immigration officials were about to return to Japan, on account of his being afflicted with trachoma. The Japanese is a former resident of San Jose, California, and was returning from an enforced visit to Japan, having been summoned as a soldier for the war with Russia. He claimed the right to land, as a resident of the country, but the immigration bureau decided to deport him as an alien.

The return, filed by Breckons in behalf of Raymond C. Brown of the immigration office, sets forth that Chiyoatsu was regularly examined and found to be suffering with trachoma and ordered deported. He took an appeal to Washington and on October 6, 1906, Secretary Metcalf of the Depart-
